REPORTS issued by the UNTSO have become familiar phenomena in the last few years. Oddly enough they have been for the most part ineffective in influencing the situations with which they deal for two reasons. One is that the reports cannot do one thing which alone can produce a remedy which is clarification and agreement through normal negotiations. The present system of publication of reports and even discussion in the Security Council does not normally help to modify positions. Two of the principal aims of the UNTSO are to help to crystallize attitudes which have already been adopted in advance and which have in fact produced the very problems for which a solution ought to be sought. It stimulates the parties to justify their positions rather than to indulge in give and take. Secondly, UNTSO reports have been distinguished by putting forward proposals divorced from the will and intentions of the parties since they have frequently been the character of abstract theorizing. Thus the results have been inevitable. The proposals have remained unimplemented.

THE above observations apply to Colonel Leary's report published today by the U.N. Secretariat. The questions relating to the demilitarized zone have remained dormant for years, and a similar report drawn up by General Burns two and a half years ago evoked little interest. At that time General Burns made it clear that it would appear impossible at this late stage to bring the conditions in the demilitarized zone into line with the principles set forth in the authoritative comment (by Mr. Ralph Bunche) on Article V of the General Armistice Agreement. General Burns proposed negotiating from the only way out of the impasse. The question is whether anything has happened since then to modify this evaluation of the situation. As the demilitarized zone is concerned there has been little or no change but there have been fundamental transformations in the general situation. Syria has allied herself with Egypt in her open aggressive intentions against Israel. She has entered on an armaments race with equipment pouring in from Soviet sources, and she has become a centre of constant danger to the stability of the area. For internal and external reasons she has deliberately produced tension along the border and resuscitated the issue of the demilitarized zone. These facts should be borne in mind by introducing an opinion on approaching these problems at this time. These considerations make it even more clear that the evaluation reached by General Burns is still valid.

THE report seems to miss the real point. Indeed it is hard to escape the conclusion that the present document is but one more step in evading the undoubtedly difficult task of facing the fact that since the conclusion of the Armistice Agreements the Arab states have developed a policy of ignoring the fundamentals of the armistice, such as the move towards a peaceful settlement and the cessation of hostile acts. The UNTSO has thus been faced with the necessity of dealing with a situation in which the armistice is considered more as a hindrance to the general hostility and war preparations against Israel.

It now appears that since the armistice machinery cannot stop border aggression its attention has been shifted to purely formal aspects of its activities. Yesterday's report does not seem to put the emphasis on how to prevent the killing of Israelis inside their own country and on how best to record such killings. One wonders whether this is the opportune time to discuss such points as whether the U.N. observers should continue to be accompanied in the exercise of their duties by Israeli officers as in the past or not. One may also ask whether it is really important that U.N. officers should reside within a quarter of an hour's journey from the scene of possible incidents and that they should be able to indicate a trend towards decadence. It is to be hoped that the UNTSO will do everything in its power to steer clear of such a course and to the extent that there may still be questions in the report which require clarification this can be done only by direct discussions with the Israeli authorities and certainly not by public debates.

Storm Swept U.S. Town Held 'Uninhabitable'

CAMERON, Louisiana, Monday (Reuters). — The town of Cameron, 90 per cent destroyed by Hurricane Audrey last week, was today declared "uninhabitable" by Dr. G. Vasquez, public health officer for the area.

There is no fresh water supply, no sewerage working, and water moccasins and other poisonous snakes are squirming in the waterlogged streets.

Hordes of mosquitoes and the rotting carcasses of animals have created a grave risk of disease outbreaks.

A mass funeral of 90 Negroes of whom 10 were identified, was taking place today. The Louisiana Governor, Dr. Earl Long, had estimated the actual death toll from the hurricane at over 400.

Troops were today still bringing in the bodies of victims, while bulldozers worked to clear the mountainous debris left by the great storm and tidal wave. It may be months before the town can return to its normal life.

The Red Cross estimates that there are 47,000 people homeless in south-west Louisiana and south-east Texas. Floods left a trail of death and damage in Missouri yesterday with at least seven dead. Roads and railway tracks were blocked by landslides. The Red Cross reported 40 homes damaged or destroyed and 32 other buildings hit.

Several fishing parties spent a night of terror in the treacherous waters of the Gulf of Mexico, where a powerful storm was swirling.

'Big Security Leak' Reported in Britain

LONDON, Monday (Reuters). — The "News Chronicle" reported today that the British secret service and Scotland Yard had traced to the West Country town of Bath, a "major leak" against national security.

The newspaper, which said Admiralty experts working on secret designs for atomic weapons in submarines and other war vessels were based in Bath, reported: "MLIS (counter-espionage) was called in when it was discovered that documents and blueprints had been copied without authority, presumably by photographing them. Suspicions were confirmed that an agent of a foreign government had paid a number of fairly lengthy visits to Bath, passing as a patient taking the cure of the Roman hot spring baths."

The report added that, at the hotel where he stayed, "he came into contact in the ordinary way with Navy people and civil servants."

Tito and Gomulka May Exchange Visits

BELGRADE, Monday (Reuters). — Joint Polish-Yugoslav officials in a possible exchange of visits by President Tito and the Polish Communist leader, Mr. Wladyslaw Gomulka, was reported today by a usually reliable source.

A visit to Belgrade by Mr. Gomulka or Prime Minister Josef Cyrankiewicz in August or September, and a return visit to Warsaw by Marshal Tito, probably in November, were under consideration, it was understood.

Marshal Tito is believed planning an Asian tour in December, which will probably include India as well as Egypt en route.

CHINA REDUCES FOREIGN TRADE

PEKING, Monday (Reuters). — China's total foreign trade planned for 1957 is approximately 91.6 per cent of the 1956 figures, it was revealed today by the chairman of the National Economic Commission in his report to the National People's Congress.

He said $40,000 tons less grain and 35,000 tons less pork would be exported this year, and that major reductions had been made in the amount of general machinery and transport equipment to be imported to provide incentive to China's own machine-building industry.

Mayflower Gets Big Welcome in N.Y.

NEW YORK, Monday (Reuters). — The Mayflower, replica of the original pilgrim ship, sailed under full canvas up New York harbor today past the Statue of Liberty to a tumultuous welcome from other ships.

She was towed away from the week-end from Plymouth, Massachusetts, by Captain Alan Villiers took advantage of a break wind to sail along the Hudson River towards the berth among the great Atlantic liners where the tiny Mayflower will spend the summer as a tourist attraction.

Arabs Irked by U.S. Stand on Canal, Gulf

WASHINGTON, Monday (UP). — The Syrian Ambassador, Farid Zein-e-Din, said today that the U.S. views on the Suez Canal and the Gulf of Akaba — that Israel has the right of peaceful passage through both waterways — was unsatisfactory to Arab Governments.

The U.S. reply was given in the form of a note on June 28 after all 11 Arab Ambassadors accredited to Washington had called in a body on Mr. Dulles.

Zein-e-Din said the Arab representatives also found unsatisfactory Mr. Dulles' rejection of their request that the U.S. participate in an international investigation of atrocities in Algeria.

Contents of the note on American views on the Suez Canal and Akaba Gulf were released on June 28. The note detailed the legal position supporting the U.S. stand that both were international waterways and that Israel shipping could not legally be excluded from either.

In rejecting the Arab request for an investigation in Algeria, the State Department would like to help in every "feasible" way to "obviate" atrocities in Algeria. But it added that an investigation such as the Arabs proposed could not be carried out without the consent of those involved in the Algerian conflict.

"Even if this could be arranged, it is doubtful whether such an investigation would advance the cause of an early and equitable settlement of the conflict which in any event will be the most effective means of stopping the atrocities," the State Department declared.

Asked whether he personally thought the Arab countries would drop their proposal for an international investigation because of U.S. unwillingness to go along, Zein-e-Din said:

"I think the Arab Governments will follow up their proposal for an investigation in Algeria with or without participation by the U.S."

Bishop of Jo'burg Lashes Apartheid

NEW YORK, Monday (Reuters). — The Rt. Rev. Richard Ambrose Reeves, Bishop of Johannesburg, said in New York yesterday that the South African Government's segregation policy was a "complete negation of all that the Christian faith asserts about God."

Speaking at the opening of a nation-wide preaching tour in Johannesburg, the South African Indian Congress announced yesterday it had called Mr. Eric Louw, the South African External Affairs Minister, to resign.

Police officials denied making the baton charge, saying the procession, during Wednesday's "Day of Protest" against the apartheid policy, broke up without any violence.

Freedom of Movement Asked for UNTSO

A complaint that the Chairman of the Israel-Syrian Mixed Armistice Commission and U.N. Observers have been prevented on various occasions from entering certain areas and localities in the Israel demilitarized zone on the Syrian frontier forms the gist of a report published by the U.N. Secretariat simultaneously in New York and Jerusalem last night for the information of the Security Council.

The report, drawn up by Colonel Leary, acting chief of the U.N. Truce Supervision Organization, was prepared in compliance with the request of the Security Council at its sessions on May 22 and May 28 when it dealt with the Syrian complaint on the Hula Valley bridge.

The 13-page report states that until June 1956, Observers circulated freely in the zone either on routine visits or for investigation purposes. Difficulties were first encountered in connection with a Syrian complaint in the early part of that month of the erection by Israel of fortifications at Hagovrim in the central sector of the zone, and at Susta, in the southern sector. The report claims that since then, U.N. Observers have been prevented from carrying out investigations in these two areas.

Other grounds for the U.N. complaint were the mining at the commencement of the Sinal campaign of the Western approach to the West Tancor bridge, which was fortified by Israel to the detriment of the M.A.C. Several other instances are cited in which Israel is said to have denied or delayed access to U.N. Observers.

The report states that while the Syrians do not refuse to let U.N. Observers enter the demilitarized zone after their identity has been checked, there have been instances of delay. Five Israeli complaints alleging the existence of Syrian fortifications and the presence of a Syrian army unit in the Hula Valley portion of the zone were referred for several days.

Col. Leary cites Israel's objections to the dismantling of fortifications at Hagovrim and Susta on the grounds that Syria does not comply with the fundamental principle of the armistice, particularly Article 1, thus threatening Israel's security, so that Israel must provide a "minimum of elementary defence" facilities. He also mentioned that at the Security Council meeting on May 23 Israel informed the Council that the mines laid at the time of the Sinal campaign, had been removed the previous day. Similarly the Sinal Ya'acov bridge which had been closed at that time was re-opened on June 22. The report states that the Israeli Director of Armistice Affairs informed him that there were no Israeli mines or minefields in the demilitarized zone.

In the conclusions appended to the report, Colonel Leary stresses the need for "unhindered freedom of movement" for U.N. Observers. "In order to carry out their duties as observers, which entails the possibility of the protection of the civilian population,"

Senate to Hear Plan for Algeria

WASHINGTON, Monday (UP). — Senator John F. Kennedy will urge the Senate tomorrow that France grant political independence to Algeria.

Reliable sources said the resolution and the speech accompanying it to be read by Mr. Kennedy tomorrow also urge that President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles use their good offices with NATO and with the Sultan of Morocco and the Premier of Tunisia, to get a solution for the Algerian problem.

Reliable quarters in the Syrian capital, quoted by the Jordan newspaper "Al-Jihad," were reported as saying that Khaleel's departure was only a pretext for his eventual dismissal.

The Syrian Cabinet, at a meeting yesterday afternoon, approved the text of the Foreign Minister's letter to King Saud, Baghdad Radio reported.

Premier Sabri Amini said at the meeting that the letter would lead to the resumption of normal relations between the two countries. He did not reveal its contents, but Amini reported from Damascus that the Syrian Government dissociated itself from criticisms directed at Saudi Arabia.

Hasouna to Riyadh for Talks with Saud

The Secretary-General of the Arab League, Abdul Khalek Hasouna, left Cairo for Riyadh yesterday to meet King Saud, the Arab News Agency reported. He is due back in Cairo on Thursday.

Intensified fighting in the past 48 hours, 10 French troops and police were killed when insurgents ambushed a patrol near Chaou, 30 kms. south-west of Oranville. Six more were killed and seven missing in an ambush 40 kms. south of Medea, and two European passengers were carried off by insurgents who held up two lorries near Téniet el Had and six more near Constantine, in eastern Algeria.

In the same period, 15 Moslems were killed in the town of Téniet el Had and six more near Constantine, in eastern Algeria.

750 Moslems Killed

Official sources in Algiers said 750 Moslems were killed, 343 wounded and 258 were missing following insurgent action in the five weeks from project declared today. Talks are still going on. No final agreement has been concluded.

Ibrahim, calling on super-tanker owners to evince interest in the scheme, said: "We welcome the participation of owners of super-tankers and oil companies in the project with conditions guaranteeing their interests and sovereignty."

The plan is for a 100-mile pipeline alongside the Suez Canal to carry half a million barrels of oil a day. The cost of the project is estimated at $13m.

After last Thursday's Ibrahim-Osmani meeting it was stated that agreement "in principle" had been reached.

Last Year's Budget Extended in Egypt

CAIRO, Monday (Reuters). — The Egyptian Minister of Finance, Dr. Abdul Monem el Kalasany, today announced that a Presidential decree issued last night, extended last year's budget temporarily until the issue of a new budget originally due on July 1.

The Cairo daily "E-Shaab" said yesterday that the peoples of Iraq and Jordan "would not allow any military operation ordered by their governments against Syria if it became involved in an armed conflict with Israel."

The paper added that Egypt would take upon herself the conduct of struggle against Israel, the Baghdad Radio said yesterday. "We are ready for the battle. We will turn it into a World War should the U.S. intervene in the conflict."

Alleged Intentions

Syria's Premier Sabri Amini, commenting on press reports about "Israel intentions" to occupy the Nizana zone, to secure internationalization of the Gulf of Akaba and to complete the Hula area, said in Damascus yesterday that these moves were aimed at provoking Arab states into taking an action which would put Israel in the position of a victim of aggression, according to Cairo Radio.

Amini said: "These acts on the part of Israel will lead to a war which will cause her destruction and the destruction of those powers which encourage her."

Syria Bows To Saud As Azem Goes 'on Leave'

Syria appears to have made an "unconditional surrender" to Saudi Arabia in their week-long dispute, following a Damascus announcement on Sunday night that Defence Minister Khaleel Asem, alleged to have made derogatory remarks about the Saudi monarch, is to leave for Italy shortly "for rest and convalescence."

Reliable quarters in the Syrian capital, quoted by the Jordan newspaper "Al-Jihad," were reported as saying that Khaleel's departure was only a pretext for his eventual dismissal.

The Syrian Cabinet, at a meeting yesterday afternoon, approved the text of the Foreign Minister's letter to King Saud, Baghdad Radio reported.

U.S. Arms to Jordan For 'Internal Security' Only

WASHINGTON, Monday (UP). — The State Department said today that the $20m. in economic and military aid extended to Jordan at the week-end was allotted in accordance with the U.S. desire to see Jordan remain an independent country.

Jordanian and U.S. Government representatives exchanged notes in Amman on Saturday providing for U.S. extension of $10m. in military aid and $10m. in economic aid. Earlier this year the U.S. gave Jordan a grant of $10m. in economic aid.

The State Department spokesman, Mr. Lincoln White, said that none of the $30m. provided was given out under the Eisenhower Doctrine.

No Policy Conflict

He said that the U.S. decision to grant Jordan military aid did not conflict with the Administration's policy of not contributing to an arms race in the Middle East.

"Our policy in the Middle East has been to encourage a steady and secure course that military aid is purely for internal security," Mr. White said.

Asked whether the U.S. intended to replace the subsidy which Britain had extended to Jordan for many years, Mr. White said this was not necessarily so. "It does not mean that we are rushing into the breach," he said. "I think it has been made abundantly clear that the existence of Jordan as an independent country is in our interest."

Israel, Egypt Affected

He indicated that the State Department sees only Egypt and Israel as affected by the United Nations resolution calling on members to withhold arms from the Near East. He said that absolutely no U.S. arms were supplied to Syria and that country obtains its military supplies from the Soviet Union.

Mr. White added that he does not know if any arrangement was being made by the U.S. to train Jordan forces. It was learned, meanwhile, that the $10m. military grant will cover arms to be procured for Jordan in England. Existing Jordanian equipment is of British manufacture.

Informed sources also reported that Jordan was anxious to obtain American or British jet fighters. (Reuters, INA)

Egypt and Syria Plan 'Defence'

Following a four-hour meeting of the Syrian Cabinet yesterday, President Kuatbi, an official spokesman revealed in Damascus on Sunday night that Syria and Egypt were concerting measures within their Joint Arab Command to resist any attack on the two countries.

The plan is for a 100-mile pipeline alongside the Suez Canal to carry half a million barrels of oil a day. The cost of the project is estimated at $13m.

After last Thursday's Ibrahim-Osmani meeting it was stated that agreement "in principle" had been reached.

Hussein Backs Egypt on Gulf

WASHINGTON, Monday (UP). — King Hussein of Jordan, in an interview in the "U.S. News and World Report" published here today, said that the U.N. Emergency Force should not be stationed in the Straits of Tiran.

King Hussein said that he and all those other places are Egyptian territory. Hussein accused Abdul Nasser of supporting the recent plot against him, but nevertheless sided with the Egyptian stand on the Gulf of Akaba issue.

He added that Akaba was an Arab Gulf, had been so for thousands of years, and must stay so in the future. He stated: "Akaba is the route for pilgrims to Mecca, and the situation in the Gulf right now has even caused us to decide not to send our pilgrims that way this year because of the risks involved."

Whether the question would come before the World Court had not yet been decided.

'Chief Problem'

The chief problem to be solved to achieve stability in the Arab world was the "Palestine problem," King Hussein said. He added that Palestinian refugees "are some times taken in by Communist propaganda about how much the Communists are trying to help solve their problems."

Hussein made it clear that he considered the Arab League primarily as a weapon against Israel. He said that "the greatest problem here is the fact that we are living along the longest armistice line that exists between an Arab state and Israel, and we must all be ready to keep an army in readiness."

Nasser was also reported as saying: "Our arms deal with the Soviets is designed to defend our vast territories against foreign aggression. We have built our fighting forces and equipped them with every modern weapon to forge the best instrument to bring about Arab unity under Egypt's leadership. Arab unity is the only way to achieve peace and prosperity for all Arab peoples."

Lebanese Pro-Western Group Wins Big Margin

Pro-Western candidates held 53 seats in the 66-member Lebanese Chamber of Deputies following the announcement yesterday of results of Sunday's voting in the fourth and final phase of the country's general election.

The pro-Egyptian opposition secured eight seats while the remaining five places went to independents.

According to Ramallah Radio, the election had been shown in the election because the new House will have the task of choosing the next President when the term of President Chamoun expires in August 1963.

Beirut Radio reported last night that, as from yesterday, Lebanese security forces would be under the control of the Army. This arrangement had been in force during the election period.

8 Arab States Back Malik for U.N. Post

The Lebanese Foreign Ministry spokesman yesterday announced that eight Arab states had so far informed Lebanon of their support for Foreign Minister Malik's candidacy for the Presidency of the U.N. General Assembly, according to Baghdad Radio.

The spokesman was quoted as saying that three Arab states had so far not declared their support. Baghdad Radio named these as Egypt, Syria and Yemen.

Mr. Eshkol's only comment after today's talks was that he expected to remain in Paris for at least another day.

PAKISTANI PREMIER DUE IN JORDAN

The Pakistan Premier, Mr. Hassan Suhrawardy, is to visit Jordan on his way back to Karachi from the London Commonwealth Prime Ministers' conference, Baghdad Radio reported last night.

During his visit, which is expected to last three days, he will hold talks with Jordanian officials on matters of interest to the two countries.

Aim is Jordan Independence

Jordanian and U.S. Government representatives exchanged notes in Amman on Saturday providing for U.S. extension of $10m. in military aid and $10m. in economic aid. Earlier this year the U.S. gave Jordan a grant of $10m. in economic aid.

Appeal Tribunal Rejects Refinery Workers' Plea

Jerusalem Post Reporter

TEL AVIV, Monday. — An appeal tribunal today rejected an appeal by 12 workers who were discharged from the Haifa Oil Refineries by order of the Minister of Defence. The order, made by Mr. Ben-Gurion, on March 10 this year, stated that the employees were to be dismissed within five days and were not to be re-employed in the refinery without the Minister's permission.

The instruction was issued in accordance with the Emergency Defence Regulations which grant the Minister of Defence the right to dismiss persons employed in essential work for reasons of national security.

The tribunal, sitting in the District Court here, dismissed the appellants' claim that the phrase "non-employment of workers" as stated in the regulations should be interpreted in the citizen's favour, since it cravely prejudiced citizen rights, the tribunal found that the phrase in question left no doubt that it included persons already employed.

Chance to Defend

The tribunal rejected the appellants' plea that they were not given the opportunity to defend themselves after the order was issued, declaring that this was not provided for in the law. To divulge the reasons for the order was likely to be detrimental to the country's security, it was said.

The appellants contended that the order was improper since it was not motivated by security requirements but by political considerations. Most of the dismissed workers had been employed in the plant for some time, some had served in the Hagana, in the War of Liberation, and in the Sinai Campaign, they stated.

The Director-General of the Ministry of Defence, Mr. Shimon Peres, questioned by counsel for the appellants, declared that the order had been issued in the knowledge that several of the discharged workers had served in the armed forces. The order was based on personal and direct knowledge of the appellants, he said.

Acted Within Law

The tribunal found that to the extent that the facts had been disclosed to it, the Minister of Defence had acted in accordance with the law and had weighed all the relevant facts before issuing the order. The tribunal expressed its satisfaction at the Ministry's declaration that it was prepared to accept the order as an arrangement alternative employment for the dismissed workers so as to minimize the hardship caused them through security requirements.

The Minister's order, with all its justification on grounds of security, must needs threaten the citizen's right to work. Therefore prompt steps must be taken to arrange alternative employment as far as possible not inferior to their former posts.

Composing the tribunal were Judge E. Many, Relying on the fact that the appellants had been employed in the Ministry of Defence, Mr. David Kachor of the Bank of Israel and Mr. Ya'acov Berger, of the Ministry of Agriculture as representatives of the public.

Draft-Dodging Broker Sent to Mental Home

Jerusalem Magistrate Y. Barak yesterday ordered that Aharon Arie Gilron, charged with aiding a number of persons to evade national service, be committed to a mental institution for examination and treatment, until he is fit to stand trial.

The police prosecutor, Mr. P. Spiegelstein, made no objection. Earlier, Mr. Spiegelstein read out the charge sheet accusing Gilron of conspiring to arrange the release from national service of draft-age boys; of coaching one G. Stern on how to simulate mental illness before the draft medical board in order to evade conscription; and of inducing Dr. S. Kelly, former Medical Adviser to the Ministry of Justice, to give Stern a medical certificate containing particulars that both Gilron and Kelly knew to be false.

There he was told that he could not have a visa because he was on record as a member of the Communist Party. Mr. Barak, however, later received the visa through the Ministers' personal intervention. He then paid Pastiano IL-700 for his services.

Pastiano, a former taxi owner, declared that the defendant Schoenfeld had offered to arrange his papers to Brazil for IL-2,000. When the witness obtained the required papers, he went to Pastiano's office. The latter sent him on to Miss Ventura in the Consulate.

He was then sent back and forth between Pastiano and Miss Ventura. The last time he came to Miss Ventura, he found the Brazilian Minister, the Consul, and three Legion employees waiting for him.

He told of his difficulties, largely the fault of Miss Ventura, and after a short conversation between the Minister and Miss Ventura, he was granted the visa.

Police Play Piped Piper for Delinquents

Jerusalem Post Reporter

Following a wave of petty thefts carried out last month by youngsters of Jerusalem's Musarra Quarter — the average age of the delinquents was 11 — police headquarters in the capital have joined forces with the Municipality to keep the young people of this area out of trouble.

Musarra is a densely populated square kilometre, whose eastern edges are within halting distance of Arab Legion guards. Its families are mostly immigrants of North African origin, and live up to eight in a room.

Groping for ways to halt a growing wave of juvenile delinquency from this area, police yesterday launched a campaign using the police band as an opening gun. Its cheerful, brassy sounds brought hundreds of youngsters and adults running through the narrow passageways of the quarter to a sunny park, recently laid out by the Municipality.

"It's especially important to provide recreation for these children now that the holidays have begun," Mr. David Wilk, Deputy District Superintendent of Police, told The Jerusalem Post. "We're thinking of organizing film shows and pitching in with the Municipality to transport the children once or twice a week to the swimming pool at Shoham."

The "bunch of prevention" campaign underwritten by police headquarters is expected to expand to other slum quarters of the capital.

IL 15,000 Said Paid For Messiahship

TEL AVIV, Monday. — "King Amosueus" spoke to me in Arabic with a Moroccan accent and promised me that I would be the redeemer of the Jewish people. Mr. M. Ben Sasson, a 55-year-old man, testified today before the District Court here in the action which he had brought against Messrs. E. Amar and M. Dahan who had offered him 75 kilograms of gold as well as his nomination as redeemer of Moroccan Jewry.

Mr. Ben Sasson, 55, told the court that he had paid IL-15,000 to the two men after they had shown him a note signed by King Solomon, stating, "I King Solomon, have written and signed this certificate in the name of the Holy David Ben-Gurion's Government and Ben Sasson, who is sanctified by heaven, will bring redemption to my people."

Ben Sasson described how he went to Tiberias on orders given by Amar, who had told him, "King Amosueus informed me that King Solomon's certificate was in the hands of Rambam's grave in Tiberias. The trial will be continued tomorrow before District Magistrate Mr. I. Shilo.

Hotel Owners Cleared In Pool Drowning

The owners of the President Hotel in Jerusalem and the Manager, Mr. Haim Schiff, were yesterday cleared of responsibility for the death by drowning of a 13-year-old boy in the hotel pool in the summer of 1956.

In handing down his decision, Acting President of the Jerusalem District Court, Judge Z. E. Baker, declared that there had been no conclusive proof that the boy, Yosef Abutbul, had died as a result of drowning.

Judge Baker pointed out, however, that the law is unclear on the point of what constitutes a "qualified life-guard." The State had claimed that there was no such person present at the time of the incident whereas the defendants pleaded that Mr. Haim Schiff's brother, who was there, was qualified.

In denying the request of defence counsel for costs, Judge Baker declared that the prosecution was perfectly justified in bringing its case to court. He added that he was not certain that another judge might not have arrived at an entirely different conclusion with regard to the accused's innocence. (Times)

Immigrant Suicide Aboard s.s. Artza

HAIFA, Monday. — A 20-year-old immigrant from Tunis committed suicide by jumping overboard from the s.s. Artza at sea yesterday, it was learned here tonight when the ship docked with 488 immigrants.

The young man, Lucien Emil Heima, boarded the ship in Marseilles, where he had been in an immigrants' camp for some time. A woman immigrant, who was with him, had his leap into the sea. It is understood that Heima has no relatives in Israel.

Ata Conciliation Offer Seen; Mapai Ministers Meet Today

Jerusalem Post Bureau

TEL AVIV, Monday. — An attempt will be made by mediating Mapai ministers tomorrow at 5 p.m. in the Jerusalem office of the Ministry of Labour to settle the month-old Ata strike, now in its most crucial stage.

It is understood that the Ata management has made conciliatory moves towards settling the dispute. During last night's five-hour-long meeting, the suggestion was raised that a general ten per cent rise in Ata prices be agreed upon by the Government. This was signed to satisfy the management's claim that acceptance of the Minister of Labour's compromise proposals would cost them IL-700,000. The ten per cent rise would increase the plant's income by IL-1.5m, and the remaining amount would help to cover the firm's deficit.

It is understood that the Minister of Trade and Industry, Mr. P. Sapir, raised the proposal that a Cabinet level enquiry committee be appointed to check the plant's financial situation. Tonight it was learned that the Ata plant's annual balance sheet would be published by the week-end, thus disposing of the charges levelled against the firm as to its financial situation. (See next column.)

Present at tomorrow's meeting, apart from Mr. Namir, will be Mr. P. Sapir and Mr. P. Naphthali, as well as the Government Labour Arbitrator, Mr. R. Shari. Representing the Histadrut Executive will be Mr. P. Lavan, M.K. Mr. A. Becker, Mr. J. Wosensky and Mr. Y. Gali. Mr. H. Molter, Mr. Y. Gali and Mr. E. Kirschner will represent the Ata management, whilst Mr. Y. Almog, M.K., and Mr. Bar-Haim of the Haifa District Council will gather with Mr. A. Mandel of the Ata works committee will represent the strikers.

The Tel Aviv-Jaffa Labour Council decided at its executive meeting today to contribute IL-10,000 out of its strike fund towards the Atai strikers fund. A Council secretary, Mr. E. Shechter, today said that as a result of the trouble in Ata, the strikers' programme insofar as it was possible to do so.

The capital expenditure in 1956 and the increase in Ata's cotton stocks was fully financed by specific loans and credits. The Consolidated Balance Sheet shows that the current assets are about double the short-term liabilities, but if the long-term liabilities are added, there is almost no balance left.

In summing up the report, Mr. P. Sapir said that the value of production was reduced, new products have been introduced into the market, and yet 1956 has been the worst year of the Ata group since 1948. The reason, the report says, is obvious: the increasing rise in costs of which the increase in wages constituted 43 per cent.

Ata Ask Order On Liquidation Move

HAIFA, Monday. — The Ata and Kuranah Textile Works Ltd. today asked for application in the District Court for a temporary court order preventing a petition for liquidation of the firm to be filed. Messrs. Y. Salomon and Lipshitz, advocates.

This is a reaction to a warning by Mr. Y. Gil, legal adviser to the Labour Council, who on June 12 demanded the payment of IL-10,000 in damages for April and the first ten days of May. In case of non-payment, he threatened to ask the court for liquidation of the firm.

The Ata and Kuranah Co. representatives argued in their application that the purpose of the request for liquidation was the Labour Council's wish to force Ata to make payments which the management did not, in its opinion, have to make. It was also an attempt to force the firm to accept conditions of working conditions to which it did not have to give assent. The case will be heard on July 14.

Kings Hotel Strike Ends in Agreement

The strike at the Kings Hotel in Jerusalem ended amicably yesterday with the signing of a labour contract between the owner, Mr. David Amiel, and the Jerusalem Labour Council.

The compromise agreement was worked out through the good offices of the Ministry of Labour's Department of Labour Relations.

The strike, which affected three chambermaids at the hotel had lasted nearly a week.

Malinki: Dehan Changed Orders

By MACABEE KASKIN, Jerusalem Post Reporter

Ray-Seren Shmuel Malinki, the No. 1 accused in the Kfar Kasim trial, finished his third day in the witness box yesterday, stressing and re-stressing that the blame for the tragedy lay with Segen Gavriel Dehan, the No. 2 accused.

They and nine others are facing court martial for killing 47 villagers on October 20.

Malinki said he had received a strict order from Malinke Isaac Shadmi. He had passed it on, but it had never occurred to him that it would be exploited to kill innocent men, women and children. He said he had never been "pregnant with tragedy."

The basic difference between the order he gave to Dehan and the one the latter passed on to his men was this: he (Malinki) had allowed the use of fire against villagers acting suspiciously; Dehan had ordered fire to be opened in every circumstance.

Moreover, Dehan had killed several villagers "under the nose of Lance-Corporal Shadmi. Other men were known as a hot-headed person. He had also stationed one of the village, while placing a coiled-headed sergeant on a roof top in a quiet spot.

Malinki conceded that had his order been followed to the letter, it could have led to "murderous" results under certain conditions. However, as it had not been followed, he could not accept responsibility.

In his testimony, Malinki charged that Mr. Yishak Green, counsel for Dehan, had

Prisoners' Leave Bill Has Reading

Jerusalem Post Reporter

Without opposition, the Knesset yesterday passed the first reading of an amendment to the Prisoners Ordinance which authorizes the Minister of Police to grant prisoners short leaves, not exceeding 96 hours, whenever he finds a good reason for doing so.

Mr. B. Shitreet, Minister of Police, explained that the bill was designed to permit such leave for family reasons, such as deaths, births and marriages.

While the bill was supported by speakers from all sides of the House, Miss Esther Wilenska (Communist) took the opportunity of attacking what she called the "arrest of innocent Arabs for merely expressing their opinions against discrimination against them."

Mr. David Hacohen (Mapai) later took the floor to protest against the "month-long" of Miss Wilenska, whom he called "the representative of a regime of prisons, concentration camps and torture chambers."

Mr. Hacohen was repeatedly heckled by Miss Wilenska (assisted by her party colleague, Mr. Emil Habibi) who insisted that Mr. Hacohen talk about the prisoners of the Military Government. Miss Wilenska was twice called to order by the Speaker.

The Knesset also passed the first readings of the following bills:

Amendment to the Interpretations Ordinance. Private member's bill of Mr. Y. Shetman (Herut). Requires Government officials to explain the reasons for rejecting requests or applications by citizens.

Amendment to the National Service Law. For the eighth successive year authorizes the Minister of Defence to waive the requirement of giving six months' notice of agricultural training.

During the course of the year investments amounted to IL-2,114,000. This expenditure was incurred as part of the first stage of the expansion programme that was started in 1954. The Report stated that as a result of the trouble in Ata, the strikers' programme insofar as it was possible to do so.

The capital expenditure in 1956 and the increase in Ata's cotton stocks was fully financed by specific loans and credits. The Consolidated Balance Sheet shows that the current assets are about double the short-term liabilities, but if the long-term liabilities are added, there is almost no balance left.

In summing up the report, Mr. P. Sapir said that the value of production was reduced, new products have been introduced into the market, and yet 1956 has been the worst year of the Ata group since 1948. The reason, the report says, is obvious: the increasing rise in costs of which the increase in wages constituted 43 per cent.

Radio Technical Staff Want Special Status

The technical staff of Kol Yisrael have applied to the Ministry of Posts, their employers, for special consideration as regards work conditions and salaries.

To support their demands, the some 30 radio technicians and engineers have begun a "regulations" strike, doing only the minimum required of them.

During the Mandate, the broadcasting services technical staff were furnished by the Post Office Department, and this situation has been continued in the State.

The strikers maintain that their job is of a much more technical nature than that of other Post employees and that they are required to work longer hours. (They still put in a 47-hour week while other Government employees have adopted the summer schedule of a 40-hour work week.)

Bill Read on Currency Control Regulations

Jerusalem Post Reporter

Under a bill which passed its first reading in the Knesset yesterday, the regulations which authorize the Government to control foreign currency transactions will remain in force "until the Knesset declares that the state of emergency proclaimed immediately after the establishment of the State, has ceased to exist." Until now the regulations have been extended every six or twelve months.

The bill (Law to Maintain the Validity of Defence Regulations — Currency) was presented by Mr. P. Sapir, Acting Minister of Finance. He said that it was the Government's view that these controls would be necessary so long as there was a great gap between imports and exports and so long as mass immigration continued.

Both Dr. Y. Bader (Herut) and Mr. H. Rubin (Mapai) objected to the indefinite extension of the regulations. Mr. Rubin did not object to extending them for a long period — even five years — but he did not think it right to link their termination with "emergency."

In his reply to the debate, Mr. Sapir said that the scope of illegal foreign currency transactions was much less than it was years ago. Proof of this was the fact that in the past two years — which included the Sinai campaign — the difference between the official and unofficial rates of the Israeli pound had remained static.

The Knesset also passed the Law Committee's Bill on Limitation of Actions, which it debated last week.

Drive to Improve Low-Grade Hotels

Jerusalem Post Reporter

The Government Tourist Corporation is launching a special campaign for the improvement of second and third class accommodation in Israel hotels to coincide with the Tenth Anniversary celebrations.

Of the 244 second and third class hotels in Israel, only 104 have been approved as fit for tourists. With the influx of tourists that is expected next year, this will not suffice.

The Corporation has decided to grant loans for the improvement of those hotels that want to be upgraded. The aim is to provide good accommodation (bed and breakfast) for IL-4 to IL-6 a day.

Hotels interested in receiving such loans are invited to apply to the Tourist Corporation before July 15.

THE TWO OWNERS of the Solga Water Factory in Jerusalem were yesterday arrested and released on bail for failure to export watches valued at IL-4,000, which they had allegedly been licensed to import for the purpose of re-export.

Padwa Claims Main Role in Start of K.F.

TEL AVIV, Monday. — The hearing of Mr. Jack Padwa's claim for IL-250,000 as compensation for shares in the company which were allegedly promised him by the managers of Kaiser - Frass, Messrs. A. Ilan and A. Friedman, was resumed today before the District Court here.

Mr. Padwa declared that Ilan and Friedman played only a minor role in establishing the automobile assembly plant in Haifa. In fact, the moving spirits were two Americans representing the mother company and Ilan's and Friedman's lawyer, Mr. A. Persitz.

Mr. Padwa's contribution had been to persuade the Americans to build the present plant in Israel instead of in Greece, the witness declared.

When in 1950, Ilan asked for a 10 per cent cash down payment on the shares on which Mr. Padwa had an option, the latter asked for more time. In the meantime, Mr. Persitz demanded that he put up the cash for the shares or accept a flat commission for his services, Mr. Padwa added.
